

FlexiCadastre Agreement Management and Workflows

Genevieve Pearson

Vice President Greenfields Exploration: Sub-Saharan Africa

FlexiCadastre User Conference, Cape Town, 10th February 2011

CONTENTS

- 1 AGA Exploration in Africa
- 2 The Need for a Uniform Legal Database
- 3 Challenges
- 4 Methodologies Used to Capture Agreement Terms
- 5 FlexiCadastre Agreement Summary Template
- 6 Live Demonstration

1 AGA Exploration in Africa

- Greenfields and Brownfields Exploration teams are currently active in 7 African Countries + 4 in MENA
- Many variants of agreements are concluded in order for AGA to consider projects and implement exploration strategies
- A number of such agreements are in hard copy and filed in regional offices – difficult to locate when staff/projects move
- Inconsistent approach to how they are captured in a database system

2 The Need for a Uniform Legal Database (1/2)

- A great number of agreements are outdated and need archiving
- The commitments and content of current agreements are poorly understood
- To achieve greater responsibility in regions there needs to be improved management understanding of agreements
- Ignorance of existing conditions leads to conflicts of interest with business partners
- Historical contracts and landholdings are not always recorded leading to repetition of past work

2 The Need for a Uniform Legal Database (2/2)

- All new agreements need to be uploaded on to the system remotely from head office
- Better internal control issues
- Proper record of confidentiality restrictions, for example for the recording of all the buffer zones to avoid potential breach

3 Challenges

- Each agreement is unique
 - how does one ensure different terms and conditions are appropriately captured into the system?
- Not all material conditions are actions
 - how are they captured?
- Jurisdictions
 - Contract Governing Law vs. Country of Operation?

4 Methodologies Used to Capture Agreement Terms (1/3)

- A detailed summary template was developed in accordance with internal compliance and management requirements
- This needs to be tailored specific to each organisation
- The template breaks down the agreement into clear sections that match relevant tabs in FlexiCadastre
- The templates record the location of the original document so that they are correctly sourced and recorded
- All material conditions are summarised
- All actions are recorded in separate part on the template

4 Methodologies Used to Capture Agreement Terms (2/3)

- The complete summary is then utilised by the data capturer to ensure all milestones are captured under actions
- Material terms are captured under 'Conditions' in the Agreement section of FlexiCadastre
- Actions are correctly entered
- The Governing laws are captured under 'Conditions'
- The actual agreement and the agreement summary are also loaded and cross referenced with licence information

4 Methodologies Used to Capture Agreement Terms (3/3)

- Agreement types created in FlexiCadastre include:
 - Concession Agreements, Confidentiality Agreements, Heads of Agreement, Joint Venture agreements, Loan Agreements, Option Agreements, Service Agreements etc.
 - In addition Agreement Sub Types have been created under the above types, e.g.: Service Agreements include Drilling Agreements, Geophysical Contracts, etc.
- All Documents also summarised according to a standard template and uploaded onto FlexiCadastre
 - Document Types include Correspondence, Company Secretarial (e.g. Minutes, Board Resolutions, Statutes), Internal Reports and Licence Matters (e.g. Applications, Decrees), etc
